

QUEEN LINDA MEETS WARM WELCOME

Miss PNE Comes Home To Sidney In Triumph After Victory

—Feted Here

First Sidney Queen to take the title Miss P.N.E., Linda Douma returned home to enjoy a civic welcome on Tuesday evening. Arriving aboard the 6.40 p.m. ferry from Tsawwassen, Linda was formally welcomed by Chairman A. A. Cormack, of Sidney village council. Escorted in a convertible to Sanscha Hall, she was feted by the entire community.

Commissioner Cormack formally presented the Queen of the giant mainland fair to her own community. Linda was welcomed by G. D. Frizzell, president of Sanscha, sponsor of the queen contest here, and master of ceremonies.

A large number of Sidney people assembled in the hall to watch the ceremony.

D. W. Ruffie, president of Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce, spoke for the community. On the stage were representatives of the Rotary, Kinsmen and Elks' organizations in token of their contribution to the queen contest here.

Mrs. Vivian Cowan, Mrs. Frank Hunt and Mrs. Chet Levar were present. They had been responsible for the presentation of the queen contest when Linda was chosen to represent Sidney. N. T. Wright, who sponsored Linda in the Sidney contest, was also present.

Mr. Frizzell reminded the audience that Linda was still Miss Sidney although she had acquired the senior title on the mainland.

Queen Is In Vancouver Hands Now!

It's out of her hands now!

Mrs. Vivian Cowan has been responsible for the queen contest in Sidney for the past four years. Mrs. Cowan undertook the direction of the campaign in 1959 and has stayed with it, usually in co-operation with Mrs. Frank Hunt.

Each year she has been the chaperone for the young ladies seeking the title of Miss Sidney.

When Linda Douma was named Miss P.N.E., she was taken out of the hands of her original sponsor and is now chaperoned by the Pacific National Exhibition.

THREE CADETS TO TAKE PART

Three Sidney Air Cadets will take part in the Battle of Britain celebrations in Victoria on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 15.

Formal services will be held at Christ Church Cathedral at 3 p.m. Buglers will be Ptl. Cpl. William Chatterton of Sidney's 676 Squadron, with LAC Gary McKeivill, of the same unit.

Escorting the ensign will be LAC W. Dinah.

The local squadron will be on parade as a flight for the occasion.

No Holiday For Maurice

Boy Loses Hand In Grinder

Labor Day week-end proved no holiday to young Maurice Hollingworth. Fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hollingworth, he was assisting his father in the latter's Local Meat Market when he trapped his hand in a meat grinder.

The boy had the presence of mind to switch off the machine and to appeal to help.

Volunteer firemen of the Sidney and North Saanich department responded to the emergency call and rushed the boy to Rest Haven hospital.

Maurice lost the greater part of his left hand in the accident, but he is still eager to get out of hospital and back to helping his

GIFT TO AREA

New Furnace For Scout Hall In Sidney From Islander

Appeal of the Scouts and Guides for assistance has been answered in one quarter. Sidney Scout and Guide Hall has a new furnace.

When the sponsors of the youth organization recently appealed for assistance in the direction and administration of the local troops and companies, the response came from outside Sidney.

Paul Whittier, of Ganges Island, could not offer assistance in kind, as he has, nevertheless, come forward with a substantial offer of help. Mr. Whittier has donated an oil furnace to the youngsters for installation in the Sidney hall.

The Scouts and Guides are still looking for leaders, but they are confident that, thanks to Mr. Whittier, they will be able to operate in warmth this winter.

The furnace will be installed in the hall on Bazan Ave. Former railway station in Sidney, the hall has been in use by the movement for many years. The new installation is the first attempt to be made to modernize the heating system in the hall.

Queen Linda came home on Tuesday to be met by representatives of the Sidney village council, the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce and other local dignitaries. She is seen here as she was crowned Miss P.N.E. last Wednesday evening. It was a big moment for the Sidney girl and one which will long remain among her most cherished memories.

FISH STORY TO CAP ALL FISH STORIES

They Could Never Do It Again Twice

True story comes from Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Stokes, of North Vancouver, who, with young sons, Ricky and Cam, have been spending 10 days at Arbutus Court.

Arriving Saturday, the family decided to go fishing equipped with rods, tackle, worms and minnows.

First, one large cod broke the line and got away, then a second followed suit.

The children were heartbroken but father, nothing daunted, promised that they would catch them the next day.

Fishing was resumed on Sunday, this time with a net on hand. Up came a 12-pound ling cod and, believe it or not, it was their friend of the day before, complete with yesterday's tackle in its mouth.

Safely landed, this time with the aid of the net, the cod was flitted, and down again went the line for another try—You guessed it; up came an eight-pounder, again with their two nets of tackle.

OVER 500 AT ONE OFFICE

REGISTRATIONS CLOSE AS OFFICE IS SWAMPED

—Voters' List Closed

Registrations for the voters' list reached an unprecedented level in Sidney last week. Among registration centres established in the district for alterations to the list was the office of The Review in Sidney.

More than 500 voters registered here. The figure is close to 10 times the number registering for previous elections.

Registrar Mrs. A. O. Berry was unable to handle the flow of applicants for registration and normal business of the office was frequently at a standstill as the foyer was filled with candidates. They were waiting on the sidewalk outside on several occasions.

Registrations closed on Saturday evening.

Those persons whose names were already on the voters' list had no occasion to register. Newcomers to the electoral district were required to register in order to be eligible to cast a ballot on September 30 in the provincial general election.

While vast numbers of newcomers duly registered their names, only a small number of juveniles under the age of 21 took advantage of the franchise. Under B.C. law all persons, Canadian citizens or British subjects who have resided for six months or more in the province and are over 19 years may vote. Comparatively few of the registrations were undertaken by voters under the age of 21.

New voters' list includes those already on last voters' list published with the addition of new registrations. No provision is made for swearing in of voters at the polls.

ATTENDANCE HIGH

95th Fair Best Ever As Crowds Fill Grounds

Brilliant Labor Day sunshine, visitors from all parts of the lower Vancouver Island area, heavy entries and wide program on entertainment all contributed to one of the most successful Saanich Fairs in the 95-year history of the show. On Monday car parks overflowed and thousands of visitors milled through the grounds and buildings to enjoy one of the biggest entertainment programs undertaken here.

Pattern was drawn on Saturday when a big crowd showed up for the opening day. Sunday's wet weather reduced the potential attendance to watch the junior riding classes but the weatherman switched his stand on Monday, to deal out one of the best days seen. Brilliant weather brought out thousands of visitors in colourful summer dress for the occasion.

Pattern of attendance was indicated by the visiting dignitaries. Provincial government was represented by John Tisdalle, Saanich M.L.A., with Agriculture Minister F. X. Richter. Two Federal members, George Chatterton, M.P. for Esquimalt-Saanich, and David Groos, Victoria member, were in attendance.

Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, Hon. George Pearkes, V.C., and Mrs. Pearkes, were also among the visitors. They have been active supporters of the Saanich Fair for many years.

The pattern was reproduced in the car parks. There were cars from every province, extending as far as Nova Scotia, as well as visiting automobiles from the United States.

AUGMENTED

Centre of attraction for children was the augmented midway with its series of rides. The ever-popular ferris wheel vied with the "octopus" for popularity, while a number of simpler rides were available for smaller children.

Throughout the afternoon of Labour Day four rings were kept going, each drawing considerable audiences. The saddle horses events and the Highland Dancing classes were in operation at the same time, to be viewed by a large gathering.

Midway, operated by Sidney Rotary Club, enjoyed one of its busiest week-ends on record. The club's new pavilion on the southeast corner of the field, was used for bingo instead of the marquee employed in previous years. The club also supervised the mechanical installations providing the rides.

Wisdom of the directors in augmenting the main body of the fair was evidenced as the steady flow of visitors to view the indoor exhibits rarely resulted in a bottleneck. Harassed staff of the fair, all volunteers, breathed a sigh of relief. Continued on Page Seven

FIRST PARADE FOR AIR CADET SQUADRON ON THURSDAY EVENING NEXT WEEK HERE

Air Cadet Squadron at Sidney enters its sixth year with an initial parade on Thursday evening, Sept. 12. First parade will be staged at Patricia Bay Armories at 7.30 p.m. Cadets already enrolled will commence a further year of activity, while newcomers will be recruited.

First formal parade of the year will follow almost immediately. On Sunday, Sept. 15, the squadron will take part in the formal "Battle of Britain" service at Christ Church Cathedral in Victoria.

Sidney squadron will parade in the city with Victoria's own squadron, No. 89. The two units will join with former serving members of the R.C.A.F. and the R.A.F. to commemorate the first great aerial battle of the world when a handful of fighter pilots saved the free world from the previously undefeated German war machine.

Service will be in Christ Church Cathedral at 3 p.m. on "Battle of Britain Sunday."

After full five years of operation the local Air Cadet Squadron has already left its mark on the community. Several hundred boys have passed through the squadron during its brief history.

NO MILITARY SERVICE

Cadets may enroll if they are between the ages of 14 and 18. Those in Grade 9 may join at the age of 13. The unit represents no military service and cadets take no oath of allegiance. They may leave the squadron at will and no commitment to the Royal Canadian Air Cadets carries obligation to serve in the armed forces in times of peace or war.

Routine of the squadron entails a weekly parade. At these parades boys learn the rudiments of foot drill and other military training. They are taught the discipline of the armed forces of Canada and are required to follow the same pattern in their own unit.

Basic purpose of the movement is to encourage boys to accept their responsibilities as good, well-trained citizens in society.

Boys who are interested in enlisting should attend on the opening parade or on any subsequent Thursday evening at the same time. Interested boys may communicate with the commanding officer, Flt.-Lt. J. R. Hannan, at GR 5-2636 or with any member of the staff.

Cadets undertake various forms of training, including rifle shooting, elementary aeronautical subjects, pre-flying instruction and various other courses offered in collaboration with the air force. Cadets may attend summer camp at R.C.A.F. Station, Vancouver, each summer and limited opportunities are offered for specialized courses and privileges.

THREE FLYING

Three cadets from Sidney have learned to fly through the squadron at no expense to themselves, while a number have attended special courses in eastern Canada during the summer months.

Squadron is sponsored by the Kinsmen Club of Sidney. The club supervises the operation of the unit and finances its needs through the course of the season. Training program is under the direction of the Royal Canadian Air Force and squadron officers and instructors follow a curriculum laid down by the service.

Commanding officer and chief instructor, F.O. Keith Hamilton are veterans of the R.C.A.F. from the Second World War. Adjutant, F.O. Kenneth Cantwell, and Supply Officer, F.O. Frank Richards are wartime veterans of the R.A.F. Drill Instructor Gerard Rousseau also served with the R.C.A.F. during the war.

INSTRUCTORS

Regular instructors of the unit also include Douglas Jack, R. W. Morrison, and Flt.-Cdt. W. Chatterton, himself a graduate of the squadron who enlisted as a cadet in 1958 while attending school. He concluded his engagement with the unit as Warrant Officer Cadet, having successfully taken a flying training scholarship as well as a visit to the United States.

Training year will continue until next summer when the final accomplishment of the year will be the annual inspection. A senior air force officer visits the unit to inspect the operation and to assess the proficiency of the cadets when they undertake a formal squadron parade without assistance or direction from their officers and instructors.

Chairman of the sponsoring committee is Hugh Loney, member of the Kinsmen Club, who works in close liaison with the commanding officer during the training year.

Services Changed At St. Paul's

Time changes for Sunday morning services at St. Paul's United Church in Sidney will go into effect this Sunday, Sept. 8.

Commencing this Sunday, there will be two identical morning services.

The first service of the day will be at 10 a.m., which will be the same time as Sunday School. This will give parents an opportunity to bring their children to Sunday School, attend the church service and pick up the children afterwards to take them home. Also people, who would enjoy being at an earlier service, can do so. The senior choir will lead the early service of praise.

The second service will be at 11.30 a.m. with the junior choir leading. This enables members of the choir to be in Sunday School and then to be in the choir for the worship service; also any teachers and other scholars have the opportunity to be in church.

This plan is an experiment that will be carried out from September 8 to the end of the year. It will only be continued if there is the support of the United Church people to the plan, said an official.

Fair Spells Success For Kathleen

One of the most successful competitors in the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society's Fall Exhibition is 14-year-old Kathleen Smethurst of Saanich.

In the recent 95th fair, the third Kathleen had entered, she captured nine first, six second and two third prizes. For the second successive year, she was awarded the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce Silver Trophy for obtaining the most points in the junior division.

ROYAL WELCOME

SIDNEY has gained a wide recognition and publicity from the naming of a Sidney girl as Miss P.N.E. Linda Douma, who entered the mainland contest as Miss Sidney was chosen for the title last week.

The selection of the local contestant has been warmly acclaimed by civic and community groups in Sidney and beyond. It is, essentially, a tribute to a very charming, unassuming young lady. It also represents a tribute to her community and to Vancouver Island.

For the next year Linda will appear on various occasions as the representative of the giant provincial fair. Wherever she appears she will bring attention to her own community.

The choice is gratifying, but it is also merited. Miss P.N.E. had already gained the affection of those responsible for her election as Miss Sidney before she went to the mainland. Neither Sidney nor the P.N.E. could have found a more charming or better qualified young ambassador.

For the next year Sidney and the P.N.E. will remain synonymous wherever Linda appears. Many in the community have already expressed their congratulations and good wishes. We cannot contribute more to the warm welcome awarded her on Tuesday. We can only identify ourselves with the messages expressed at that time.

PREPARATIONS

KEEN interest in the preparations for the coming provincial general election have indicated a greater than usual concern with the election. There is no conclusion to be reached at this stage from the large groups registering for eligibility to vote. The only obvious conclusion is that a keen and vital interest exists in the affairs of this province.

An observer commented on the small number of junior voters who were safeguarding their recently won franchise.

Vast majority of registrations were from residents who had changed their abode within the electoral district or those who had come to reside from other parts of the province or of Canada. Few were those who have been awarded the privilege of voting by reaching their 19th birthday.

Obviously the discrepancy in concern is one of age and sense of responsibility. Those who have warmly welcomed the extension of the franchise in this province to the 19th birthday will regret the comparatively small numbers exercising it. Those who have been opposed to the scheme have had the ground cut away from under their feet. If youthful voters fail to register, then what reason is there for objecting to their being so privileged?

Truth of the matter is that the adults who have eagerly registered for the provincial election must ascertain that their own children are equally concerned. Indifference today is likely to remain for many years.

None of us can afford to be indifferent to elections. The reward of such an approach is a violent concern when it is too late.

SUCCESS AGAIN

THE week-end brought a new record in attendance to Saanich Fair. The grounds and buildings have never seen so large a horde of visitors in the 95-year history of the Peninsula Exhibition, which is the oldest fall fair in western Canada.

In many respects the sponsors, North and South Saanich Agricultural Society, outdid themselves in preparing for the occasion. A vast choice of activities, with entertainment and recreational facilities adequately prepared, contributed to a satisfaction among the visitors.

The sponsors spend many months in the preparation of each year's fair. The final days before the Labor Day holiday are anxious and filled. Any anxiety on the part of the directors was quickly cancelled out by the attendance. Their final efforts were justified by the results.

The 95th fair has proved a credit to its sponsors. It draws a healthy pattern as the first centenary looms ever closer.

REPORTER IS IMPRESSED

Attractive Young Sidney Queen Is Named At P.N.E. In Vancouver

By BILL CHATTERTON

Tofino. That's where it all started.

Just over 19 years ago, a girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Douma at the small west coast community. Today, this same girl, now a tall, curvaceous, blue-eyed beauty, is both Miss Sidney and Miss P.N.E.

Linda Douma left Tofino when she was four months old, and with her parents moved to Victoria. When she was just one year old, they moved to Sidney and have been here ever since. Mr. Douma is the proprietor of Douma Motors on Beacon Ave.

Linda's early life was much the same as any other young girl. She attended Sidney elementary school, North Saanich secondary school and will soon start her second year of studies at Victoria University.

CONTENTED MUSICIAN

But she was not content with just going to school. She was in turn, a Brownie and a Girl Guide. Linda has been a member of St. Paul's United Church choir since the age of nine and is also an accomplished piano player. Music fills a large part of her life. She played clarinet with the North Saanich school band for some three years and this summer has been relief organist at St. Paul's. She has also been a Sunday School teacher.

Although it would seem that she has very little time for anything else with all these activities, her favorite pastime is writing to students in countries all over the world. She corresponds continuously with students in such foreign lands as France, Italy, Spain and Australia.

Miss P.N.E. has one brother and two sisters, all younger than herself. Cathy, 18, is widely known in this area for several reasons. Last year she was a Sidney princess and many people have heard her singing at a wide variety of events over the past years, sometimes by herself, and other times harmonizing with her older sister.

The only boy in the respected family is Reg, now 16, and a member of the Sidney Air Cadet squadron. Youngest of the four children is four-year-old Laurel, who may one day be a beauty queen herself.

GREAT HELP

The poised and modest queen is quick to share some of the jewels of her new crown. Prominent on the list are two beautiful girls, her own sister, Cathy, and Barbara Erickson, Miss Sidney of 1962-63.

Says Linda, "Without Cathy and Barbara urging me, I probably wouldn't have entered the Miss Sidney contest in the first place. Barbara was just wonderful. She told me last fall that I should enter the contest and she proved to be a great help in preparing me for the Miss P.N.E. pageant."

The dual queen is also warm in her praise of Norman Wright who sponsored her in the Sidney queen competition.

The trip to the Pacific National Exhibition was something she will never forget. The 29 girls from all points in B.C. competing in the contest had a heavy itinerary to follow prior to the judging last Wednesday evening. Every day they were entertained with dinners, shows, trips, garden parties and other affairs. Each girl received stationery imprinted with her own name and address and a gold bracelet engraved with her name and the town she represented in the contest.

Letters To The Editor

VALUED SERVICE

Please allow me to clarify my position regarding kindergartens. My only experience with a private kindergarten has been with the one my younger son attended last season. The changes wrought in him were nothing short of amazing — something a baby-sitting service could not do. I feel that he has been well prepared to start school this month.

There is no department of education supported kindergartens in this district. I do not feel we should, further burden, the taxpayer by calling for more government inspectors to supervise these private enterprises. They are well governed by regulations and inspectors at the present time.

A. G. CAMPBELL,
Saanich School District,
No. 63,
Sidney, B.C.
Sept. 3, 1963.

KINDERGARTEN

I was interested to see that some of the trustees of our School District have again recorded their opinion that kindergartens, the private ones anyway, are merely baby-sitting services. It is noted that these trustees did not have the courage to condemn outright those kindergartens operated by the more progressive districts, and, apparently, with the approval of the department of education.

Several kindergartens operate in North Saanich. Some are of the co-operative type and some are commercial but all have one thing in common: they develop the coordination, co-operation, interest and group discipline of the children in one of the most receptive periods of their lives. Some first grade teachers may protest that the small amount of academic instruction, which must form a part as they arrived and accompanied them to the dining-room where they were shown the two-tiered cake beautifully decorated by Mrs. F. Stenton.

The cake, surrounded by tulle and decorated in white with pink roses and silver leaves, was flanked with pink tapers and miniature flower arrangements. Guests were then escorted to the garden where refreshments were served. Toast to the couple was given by R. Smith, Sr., of Vancouver.

Messages were received from Her Majesty the Queen, Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia, the Hon. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., Prime Minister L. B. Pearson, Premier W. A. C. Bennett, John Tisdalle, M.L.A., grandson Bill Haneson and family of South America, and the Mosop family.

Mrs. F. Derry and Mrs. F. Stenton supervised the serving of refreshments and the ladies pouring tea were Mrs. B. L. Martin, Mrs. S. Taylor, Mrs. E. Kirschen and Mrs. A. Griffiths. Serving were Mrs. A. Fisher, Mrs. G. Smith, Mrs. A. Mosop, Mrs. J. Mosop, Miss Pam Thornley and Miss Glenda Smith.

On Thursday, August 22, the actual wedding date, a family dinner was enjoyed at the "Net Loft," where the celebrating couple were honored guests. Here for the occasion were their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. Haneson, of Medford, Oregon, and granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. Surgeon, of Vancouver.

of the kindergarten training, upsets the stylized course of first grade learning, but I am sure that most will agree that the kindergarten trained child is a pupil, as opposed to an anti-social individual, from the first day of school.

If the trustees would consult the parents who send their children to kindergarten, they would find that the parents do not consider the cost, the transportation difficulties and, in the case of the co-operative type, the amount of voluntary work involved, as just a pleasant alternative to keeping the children at home in the mornings.

We hear much today of the necessity for longer hours and shorter holidays for schools so that students may cope with the increasing educational demands. The somewhat obvious method of starting education even six months earlier appears to be too logical although it has been adopted by many of the more advanced countries of the world.

Perhaps we, and most of the rest of the world, are wrong. If so, surely our trustees should dedicate themselves to spreading the word farther afield than just the Saanich Peninsula. They might even start with our nearest neighbors, the Greater Victoria District to the south and the Gulf Islands District to the north. In both these districts the public's money is being frittered away on baby-sitting services.

H. D. TRIPP DIES SUDDENLY IN SIDNEY

Funeral services will be held in Sidney this Friday, Sept. 6, for Harry Deane Tripp, who died suddenly in Sidney on Tuesday, Sept. 3. Mr. Tripp, aged 72 years, had resided in Sidney for the past 24 years. He was born in Sunbridge, Ontario.

The late Mr. Tripp was a member of Sidney Branch No. 25, Old Age Pensioners' Organization, and also the Victoria 5-Pin Association. Mr. Tripp leaves his wife, Emily May, at home; two sons, Deane and Wilfred, of Sidney; two daughters, Mrs. P. (Olive) Osborne, of Portage in Prairie, Man., and Mrs. J. A. (Shirley) White of Bigglescliffe, Carlton County, New Brunswick; nine grandchildren; three brothers, Eldon, Vancouver, and Harold and Marvin in Kelowna, B.C.; one sister, Mrs. E. (Charlotte) Smith, Regina, Sask.

Rev. Irene E. Smith will officiate at the services on Friday to be held in Sands Funeral Chapel of Roses at 2 p.m. The services will be followed by interment in Hatley Memorial Gardens.

MANY GIFTS

Apart from the $1,000 cheque, trophy and crown, Miss P.N.E. received a wide assortment of gifts from organizations, businesses and individuals. One of these gifts is a bracelet with a large and heavy gold nugget.

The pace increased after her crowning. She found herself doing everything from being presented to the Lord Mayor of London, Sir John Perring, to watching an egg-laying contest. In between were parties, awarding of prizes and tours. At 11.45 on the last night of the exhibition, Linda drew the winning ticket of Janez Plesee for the $30,000 home door prize.

COINCIDENCE

Miss P.N.E. was joined in Vancouver by her mother a few days after the start of the fair. Mrs. Douma was present at the time just by coincidence. She went over with a friend, and says, "We were going to go earlier but my friend couldn't make it." After the crowning, Mrs. Douma was invited to attend all the functions with her daughter if she desired. She went to many of these and returned home the day before Linda. Linda was accompanied home by her grandmother, Mrs. D. Cole.

Both Linda and her mother were delighted with the organization of the pageant. They gave special praise to the chairman of the exhibition, Dorwin Baird, whom they found "just wonderful." Linda roomed with Miss Victoria, Merle Webb, in Vancouver and was crowned by last year's Miss P.N.E., Dianne Davidson of Vernon.

FULL YEAR

For the next year, Linda Douma of Sidney will represent the P.N.E. at events all over the Pacific coast. Among the affairs she will be attending are the Kelowna Regatta and the Seafair in Seattle. She will also rule over the first week of next year's Pacific National Exhibition.

In the meantime, she will resume her studies at Victoria University, where, in three years, she hopes to major in French and Spanish. She has received an offer of a free trip to Hawaii at Christmas from a Victoria travel firm but although this would be "very nice," it would be necessary to get the approval of the P.N.E. board of directors before accepting the offer.

At the completion of her studies, Linda may go to Europe to teach. What may be Sidney's loss would surely be Europe's gain!

"For wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be that go in thereat." Mt. 7:13.

Highways are a common subject these days. Summer vacations have probably seen the vast majority of people using them to speed from one point of interest to another. Newspapers carry the suggestion that the speed limit on some of our new four lanes roads may be raised.

This past weekend has been impressed upon us as a time to use these highways with due care that accidents could be curbed. West Saanich Road is being straightened, banked and surfaced for greater speeds. The purpose is that while the number of cars can't be limited in a growing population, the number of hours on the roads can be decreased by speeding the flow of traffic. Another purpose is to increase the numbers on the roads to step up tourist spending and so help the economy of the land.

This is no new principle just discovered by our highways department. Satan has also been using this plan for years and found it very effective. The wide road that lets man do anything he wants, indulge in any pleasure, follow any whim, and the smoothness of the road that lets him have things his own way for himself is attractive. This is the road most take. But the end is Satan's abode. Heaven is the other way on the road that is made narrow by God's restrictions for man's good: where sin is recognized and dealt with by the blood of Christ; where man sacrifices his desires for the will of God and consideration of others. Stop now and consider, are you speeding with your family headlessly to hell or are you guiding them carefully along the narrow road to heaven?

Prison Plan Abandoned Here

No prison problems face Saanich this year. Plans announced earlier by the Attorney-General's department for use of Wilkinson Road mental home as a maximum security prison have been abandoned. Attorney-General Robert Bonner has revealed that his department no longer sees the old building as a prison in view of the extensive cost of alterations.

Originally constructed as a prison, the building was used as a mental home until recent times. Latterly it has been unused. Saanich expressed concern recently that the government would establish a prison of the nature visualized in an area so intimately associated with the tourist industry.

PENCILLINGS FROM PENDER

NEW FERRY WAS NEED, NOT POLITICAL GIFT FOR VOTES

By VIRGINIA SHIRLEY

Announcement of a new ferry for the Gulf Islands may have come at a propitious time, but we believe this announcement would have come, election or not.

The overloads, the complaints, and the general expansion of the area since the first day of the Queen of the Islands service, must have engendered plans for another ship in the minds of the powers that be, long ago.

Also, we were constantly told that this year was a "trial year," so how could things run smoother another year without more service? And more service means more ferries. Besides, the Penders and Saturnas haven't had real service from the Queen of the Islands. And with a non-stop run for Salt Spring, something had to loom on the horizon for the rest of the Islands. But let's not start criticizing "two big ferries for thirty-five hundred Gulf Islanders—ridiculous!"

The ferries aren't just so we can go to Vancouver for a day's shopping, and return. They are so Vancouver can come to us—and buy our properties, and bring their friends and relatives, and travel back and forth, paying their fares. We are being "developed."

ASLEEP FOR YEARS

After all, almost every magazine and newspaper one picks up these days has something in it about the Gulf Islands—pointing out that Canadians have been asleep these many long years, in not realizing the potential of the Islands. So, the government woke up, and realized the potential, and here we are, pushing the panic button about being overrun with undesirable.

Maybe for two or three months in the summer, day trippers will stream in and out, but it's going to be the carriage trade that actually settles on these Islands from now on. Property values will continue to go up, naturally, and the job in the city has to be top bracket to yield the income to commute. It isn't quite like taking the $1.10 in from suburbia. And the carriage trade doesn't build shacks and take in each other's washing. While we've been concerned with saving the Islands for us, we'll have to learn to share with others who may want to live out of the smog, too.

Of course, all this could have waited another 5, 10, or 15 years, and it wouldn't have worried many of us, nor made any difference, except that our heirs would realize more from their property legacies. But it's come now, so let's work together to keep the Islands as genuine as possible. Much of their charm derives from the absence of hot dog stands, picture shows, taverns, and the clat rap of Bill Board Avenue.

Day trippers who look for this sort of thing would be well-advised to go elsewhere. But the vast majority of the people who come to the Islands do not expect these. But they do, and naturally, expect a little attention. And there are some things we could do ourselves. After all, it's easy to get into the habit of the gimmies where the government is concerned.

UP TO A POINT

Facilities at the ferry landings are the government's responsibility, yes, up to a point, but we could ourselves put up the odd picnic table at the ends of the roads, and at the public beaches, and even supply garbage containers. A simple list of picnic sites, and places to stay, with road names (and goodness knows the highways people are more than generous with direction signs), could be handed to each pedestrian and car driver on debarkation. If we'd all get behind our civic organizations, they could do a lot more.

Toes are going to be stepped on in any case, so the thing to do is don a pair of stout shoes and do any required kicking in the organization—not outside, nursing ancient grudges and petty spites.

The Islands are worth more care and planning than we are giving them under the "let George do it" theory, and it will take the combined effort, and the ideas and suggestions, and support of all of us to see them safely through the months of change ahead.

A special message to all parents of boys and girls now in high school

You can guarantee your youngster's College Education in partnership with "MY BANK"

BANK OF MONTREAL UNIVERSITY EDUCATION PROGRAMME

A comprehensive, life-insured plan for financing a college education for boys and girls now in high school

If you are like most parents with children in high school, you are probably wondering how you are going to meet the costs of financing your youngster's college education. To help parents solve this problem, the Bank of Montreal has introduced its University Education Programme—the first life-insured plan of its kind in Canada.

Under this comprehensive programme, parents, guardians and sponsors of high-school students can spread the cost of a university education over periods of up to nine years, thus keeping monthly payments to amounts they can afford without hardship. And the cost to the parent is only a fraction of the interest paid on a straight loan programme.

HOW THE PROGRAMME WORKS

Under the basic plan, the parent agrees to make monthly payments to the Bank starting, say, two years before the student enters university, and terminating one year after graduation. In return, the parent receives an annual sum from the Bank at the start of each of the four university years.

VARIANTS OF THE PLAN

Several optional plans are available under the programme, and these vary as to the number of years in which the parent wishes to make monthly payments, as well as to the amount required annually for university expenses. Plans are based on objectives ranging from $1,000 to $8,000 payable to the parent in four annual instalments.

Here is an example of how one of the basic plans can be varied to suit your needs:

OBJECTIVE: $4,000
To be paid to the parent in four annual amounts of $1,000 each
OPTIONS	YOU PAY MONTHLY	PERIOD OF PAYMENT	YOUR PAYMENTS BEGIN
Plan A	$49.55	7 years	2 years before university
Plan B	42.78	8 years	3 years before university
Plan C	37.56	9 years	4 years before university

LIFE-INSURANCE FEATURE

If the parent concerned should die after the start of the programme, the funds for education specified in the agreement will be advanced by the Bank each year without any further payments being made by the family or the estate.

HOW TO JOIN THE PROGRAMME

See the people at your neighbourhood B of M branch. You will receive a warm welcome from a staff who will be pleased to give you further details and to help you select a plan suited to your needs. Ask for your copy of the Bank of Montreal University Education Programme folder.

P.S. If you need help in financing a student already in University—or planning to register this year—talk to your B of M Manager. Chances are he can arrange a tuition loan with extended payments adapted to your circumstances.

Highly Successful Saanich Fair

 The fair on Monday evening as the last visitor left the fair ground.
 Event was opened on Saturday by Agriculture Minister F. X. Richter at 1 p.m. Mr. Richter commended the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society on its exhibition and explained that the fair serves as a sounding board for his department, where the feeling of the farmer can be assessed.
MUNICIPAL SPEAKERS
 In addition to federal and provincial officials, Saanich Reeve Stanley Murphy and Acting Reeve A. K. Hemstreet, of Central Saanich, also spoke at the formal opening ceremony.
 Albert Doney, president of the society for 11 years, expressed his satisfaction at the level of this year's fair. Mr. Doney has presided over the fair during the period which has seen it develop from a one-day stand to a recognized two-day fair with a youngsters' riding program on the third day.

 Refreshment booths operated throughout the grounds by various local organizations were augmented this year by a salmon barbecue by Saanich Indians.
 Final figures on attendance and revenues were not available this week. Society is now concluding its assessment, but there was no voice raised to question the simple truth that this year's Saanich Fair was the best on record.

SOME BARGAINS!

Revealed As Wall Torn Out

Goddard and Co., Ltd., of Sidney, are not in the dry goods business but Everett Goddard recognizes a good buy in draperies when he sees it. Last week Mr. Goddard was busy reading advertisements for Irish napkins at $1.60 per dozen, children's dresses at 90 cents each and honeycomb bedspreads at $1 and $1.25.
 The president of the Sidney water treatment company did not rush out to make a purchase. The advertisements were carried in a copy of the Victoria Daily Colonist hidden inside the wall of an old building he was demolishing at his Beaumont Road property.

 The newspaper was published on Thursday, April 16, 1914, two world wars ago. Advertising the bargains in draperies was Goddard's Ltd., of Yates St. in Victoria.
 The post-war era of haste and violent depression had not reached the island at the time of publication. Even the advertising reflects the gentle pace of the life at that time.

Some of the advertisers are still in business in the city. Moore and Whittington are listed among the small advertisers as are Fletcher Bros., Evans, Coleman and Evans were offering a new shipment of California Salt.

SOME ARE GONE
 Some firms have gone by the board since 1914.

Prices are all significant. A new suit is offered for $16, with an overcoat for an extra $16.50. Spacious and roomy baby buggy with oversized wheels was offered with a 12-month guarantee at $29.50.
 Among the new items listed in the section of the Colonist discov-cord was the announcement of a new assistant postmaster for Victoria, E. H. Gardner. Regulation of fuel and foodstuffs was now within the scope of the municipality and considerable civic debate was centering around the measures to be taken.

The dry, brittle condition of the paper renders its reading hazardous. It is an interesting curiosity from a home of the past.

WARMER AND DRIER AT GANGES

Statistics compiled by Ganges weather observer H. J. Carlin for the month of August show higher temperatures and considerably lower precipitation than the same month last year.
 High temperature for August 1963 at Ganges was 80 degrees recorded on August 8 and 12. Low temperature of 48 degrees was recorded on August 26. Precipitation for the month was 0.62 inches; the maximum mean temperature was 70.4 and the minimum mean was 52.2 degrees.

Comparative figures for August of 1962 show a high of 76 degrees on August 29; low of 49 on August 26 and precipitation, 3.16 inches.

Centennial Planning Led Way To PNE For Linda Here

Centennial celebrations of British Columbia in 1958 made it possible for Linda Douma to be named Miss P.N.E. five years later.

Prior to 1958 the annual queen contest in Sidney had been run on the basis of a popularity vote. Candidates were assessed by the number of draw tickets sold in their favour. Winner of such a contest was not eligible to compete in any other beauty contest on the Miss Canada system.

When a group of residents undertook the presentation of Sidney Day activities for the year of the centennial the system was changed. It was decided that Miss Sidney should be eligible to compete beyond the bounds of the community.

N. T. Wright, Cliff Vollrath and Mrs. Vivian Cowan were among those who advocated the new policy. It was adopted in 1958 and has been followed each year since that time.

Because Sidney Day was switched to this routine, Linda was eligible to compete.

Charles Ward KINDERGARTEN FULFILLS NEED IN ITS COMMUNITY Dies After 51 Years Here

Contractor in Sidney for many years and a highly esteemed member of the community, Charles Ward, passed away Sunday morning after a severe heart attack.

Mr. Ward was born in Staffordshire, England, in 1888. In 1908 he and his wife left their native land to settle in Winnipeg, where they resided until 1913. At that time they moved west, with their son, and came to Sidney. In October of this year the late Mr. Ward would have marked his 50th year here.

He was employed at the Sidney mill as construction foreman and worked in that capacity until about a year-and-a-half prior to its closing. His next venture was general contracting and among his major projects were the building of the customs house, Gem Theatre, first North Saanich high school and many residences and other buildings.

He was also employed in the building of the Post Office in Sidney, in 1936.

On retirement, Mr. Ward was building inspector for the village of Sidney and at the time of his death was serving on the appeal board. He was a member of St. Andrew's Anglican Church.

He is mourned by his wife, Ada, at the residence, 2499 Rothesay Ave.; one son, Bert, 10344

"Good kindergartens serve a valuable purpose in our society," says the North Saanich Pre-School Supervisors' Association.

The kindergarten program is planned to meet the needs of pre-school children — intellectual, cultural, physical, emotional, and social.

Resthaven Drive, Sidney; and three grandchildren. Mr. Ward was a member of Mount Newton Lodge No. 89, A.F. and A.M.

Funeral services will be held at St. Andrew's Anglican Church, Sidney, on Thursday, Sept. 5, at 2 p.m. with Rev. Canon F. C. Vaughan-Birch officiating. Arrangements are being handled by Sands Funeral Chapel of Roses, Sidney.

The teacher plans each day's activities to insure development in all these fields. Kindergarten is an important step in the transition between the child's home and school life.

Licensed kindergartens in British Columbia are supervised by the department of health and welfare and are inspected yearly by officers of this department. Teachers are required to complete a training course, under the University of B.C. Extension Department, in pre-school teaching methods and child psychology.

The North Saanich Pre-School Supervisors' Association is composed of all licensed kindergarten teachers in the North Saanich area.
